DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hartsock.

Hartsock discloses wherein the friction brake lining comprises a slaving device (25) for the wedge, which slaving device slaves the wedge to the friction brake lining in the one direction of rotation of the brake body in which the self-boosting device is operative; and wherein vehicle brake comprises a travel limiter (18) for the friction brake lining, which limits a travel of the friction brake lining in the opposite direction. (Figure 1)

Re claim 11, see element 18.

3. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hauth.

Hauth discloses wherein the friction brake lining comprises a slaving device (5'') for the wedge (5'''), which slaving device slaves the wedge to the friction brake lining in the one direction of rotation of the brake body in which the self-boosting device is operative; and wherein vehicle brake comprises a travel limiter (6) for the friction brake lining, which limits a travel of the friction brake lining in the opposite direction. (Figure 3)

Re claim 11, see element 6.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 12-14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Dietrich et al. teach a similar self-boosting brake.
